

Santa Fe: The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court or designee determines delayed openings, early dismissals, and closures due to inclement weather for the Court of Appeals office in Santa Fe. The Supreme Court disseminates closure information to the public via local news outlets.

Albuquerque: When Albuquerque Public Schools (APS) is in session, the Court of Appeals office in Albuquerque follows APS with regard to delayed openings, early dismissals, and closures (aka, "asynchronous learning days"). When APS is not in session, the Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals or designee determines closures due to inclement weather for the Court of Appeals office in Albuquerque. The Court of Appeals disseminates closure information to the public via local news outlets.